WANTED.
At this office, an intelligent, good boy, twelve or fifteen years of age, to learn the Printer's trade. We know of no better school than a printing office.

Divine Service.
There will be Divine Service in St. Peter's Church, (Episcopal) Oxford, on Sunday the 8th inst., at 11 A. M. Rev. J. R. Thompson, of Holy Springs will officiate.

Rev. Dr. Langdon, of Nashville.
Rev. Dr. Langdon, of Nashville, formerly Editor of the Banner of Peace, preached in the Cumberland Church, of this place, on Sunday night last. His text was:—"We know that we have passed from death into life, because we love the Brethren."—1 John, iii, 14. The subject of experimental religion was discussed with much force and earnestness. The Reverend gentleman also handled, somewhat severely, those professed Christians who confine within marked boundaries, their love for "the Brethren." We listened to the discourse with much pleasure.

Rev. John R. Thompson, of Holy Springs.
This reverend gentleman preached, in the new Episcopal Church of Oxford, on Sunday afternoon. His text was:—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."—Matt. xii, 39. His description of the character and mission of the God-man, Christ Jesus, was very able. The congregation seemed very highly pleased, and have engaged the Rev. Mr. Thompson to hold Divine Service in their church every Sabbath until the return of the Rector, Dr. BARNARD, from his tour to Labrador.

Personal.
The members of the Board of Trustees of the University of Mississippi, present in Oxford at their late session, were his excellency, Gov. Pettus, ex-officio President of the Board; Col. Geo. H. Young, of Lowndes; Wm. F. Dowd, Esq., of Monroe; Messrs J. W. Clapp, and A. M. Clayton of Marshall; Hon. C. P. Smith, of Wilkinson, and Messrs. James M. Howry, James Brown, and Alexander H. Pegues, of Lafayette. The absentees were I. N. Davis, of Oktibbeha; W. L. Sharkey, of Hinds; John J. McRae, of Clark, and Charles Clark, of Bolivar.

New Building.
Mr. Jo. Able, the enterprising tailor of Oxford, has removed from his old stand, near the Book Store of Mr. Roberts, next door South of W. H. Smith. The old building was too small, and Mr. Able resolved to put up a new and more commodious one. The new building will be quite an addition to the appearance of the town.

Col. Partridge, of the Vicksburg Whig.
Among the many distinguished persons whom we noticed present at the Commencement exercises, on Thursday morning last, was Col. Partridge, Editor of the Vicksburg Whig. The Col. is a distinguished journalist, and makes a good paper. But, gracious! what a terrible opposition man he is! If only had a chance, he would choke Democracy to death, without any compunctions of conscience at all. Ugh! how we shudder to think of it!

Our Advertisers.
We would call attention to the new advertisements in to-day's paper.
The "Eagle Planing Mills," W. A. Buffalo & Co., Holly Springs, were very rapidly acquired a reputation for the faithful and workmanlike manner in which they turn out all their jobs. Give them a trial.
Messrs. Walker & Snider, Commission Merchants, New Orleans, are favorably known to many of our readers.

Mr. W. NASH requests us to state that he has been detained long in Holly Springs than he intended, having been doing more business than he anticipated. He states, however, that the Oxford people will have an opportunity of having their Pianos tuned very soon.

"Life and Times of Gen. Sam. Dale, the Mississippi Partisan," by J. F. H. Claiborne, of Mississippi, has been presented us by the enterprising Mr. Roberts, of the Book Store. We will give an extended notice after reading the book, which is one the literati have been long looking for. For sale at Roberts', at Publisher's prices—$1.00 per copy.

Mr. J. R. Chappell, of Jackson, Tenn.
If any of our readers wish an iron fence, or anything in that line, we would advise them to call upon the above named gentleman, or upon his agent in Oxford, Mr. M. J. Cook.

The neat and finished appearance of our Court House fence is a sufficient letter of recommendation for Mr. Chappell. We advise our Holly Springs friends to engage his services right away, and have a Court House enclosure worthy of that "City of Flowers."

Flowers.
Who does not love flowers? The soul is dead which does not. That is our ideal of a woman, who, in addition to the duties of the household, cultivates these indices of the places where angel feet love to tread. Thanks, many thanks, sweet lady, for the beautiful bouquet. We shall prize it, as we do already prize the giver.

A Distinguished Dog.

JACK, the little dog of our friend ROMANOS, of the University House, has within the last two weeks, become quite famous. About two weeks ago, some miscreant, without the fear of the law before his eyes, hurled little JACK from the second floor of the Hotel to the ground, thereby bruising his bones, disordering his mental machinery, and letting loose his tongue to yelp sweet discord, to the great disturbance of the neighborhood. Some persons who saw JACK's strange manœuvres, became frightened, and raised the alarming cry of "mad dog!" A tried veteran was soon dispatched, with axe in hand, to dispatch poor JACK. One murderous blow upon the head, one stifled groan, one nervous wag of his abbreviated tail, a stiffening of the limbs, and poor JACK had gone the way of all flesh. In indecent haste, the mangled body of the departed dog was well put away, in an unused well on the premises. JACK was sorely missed. His ever present face, full of canine intelligence, his social disposition, making him very affectionately disposed toward meat and bread—beef especially—had caused him to become a great favorite with his fellow boarders. Many a fond regret was spoken in the subdued tones of deep grief, and many a bone was left ungnawed. But wonderful to tell, his end was not yet! His work on earth was not finished. More beef bones demanded his services. Some person, well for JACK, eight days after the killing, heard a low moan in the well. The dead dog was alive again!—Soon, a loud barking warned his devoted friends there yet was life in JACK. On the eighth day of his entombment, a rope with a running noose at the end of it, was let down and having caught around the dog's neck, JACK once again was brought to terra firma. Killing, starving, exclusion from the society of his friends, had failed to accomplish his death. And now in all the stateliness of newly-gained glory, he struts, with lofty stride, about the precincts of his boarding house, bearing the marks of his troubles as proudly as the soldier does the scars received in the thick of the battle. Such is JACK's story as told to us. "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, others have greatness thrust upon them."—Honorable JACK has "achieved greatness," and in dog-annals, will always maintain a high rank on the roll of fame.

Our Devil's Last.
Why is a communication in a newspaper without a date to it, like the Mississippi Bottom at certain seasons? Because it is undated. Why is a mile never young? Because he is always well advanced in (years).

Thanks to Mrs. Clark & Son, of the Steward's Hall of the University, we are under obligations for a bundle of cakes, candies, and other "goodies." We always have a tooth ready for such things.

The Board of School Commissioners.
The Board of School Commissioners assembled at the Court House, on Monday morning last. There was very little business before them. The members of the board are:—E. D. Sinclair, President; W. H. Adams, M. Mitchell, W. H. Shaw, and Wm. Patterson. We learn that the amount of the annual school commissions distributed among the different school districts of the County, was $1,700 00.

Meeting of the Police Court.
The Police Court met at the Court House Monday, July 2nd. The members of the Board are:—W. H. Smith, President; Howell Welch, J. J. Higginbottom, Jas. H. Martin, and J. V. Nunnally.

A thousand dollars was allowed for building the poor house.

To James Crossley, $61.90 was allowed for building a bridge.

To W. H. Parker, $90.00 was allowed for building the bridge across Pass-Creek creek.

To W. W. McMahon, $113.85 was allowed, for building the cistern in the Court House yard.

The following gentlemen were appointed overseers of the poor for the ensuing year: Jas. M. Cook, Jas. P. Dunn, John Estill, Wm. Foudren, and G. W. Paris.

The Board then adjourned.

W. H. SMITH, President.
E. D. MOORE, Clerk.

BURTON N. HARRISON, R. A.,
Assistant to the Professor of Physics.

The thirteenth annual session of this institution will open on the 17th day of September, 1860, under the direction of the able and experienced Faculty named above.

The University offers advantages 16 young men seeking thorough education, unsurpassed anywhere in the United States, and unequalled in the South.

Its apparatus and arrangement for the instruction of Physical Science, and Chemistry, are entirely unrivalled. In Mineralogy it possesses a cabinet of select specimens, choice and valuable.

The President and Professors need no commendation from the Board of Trustees, most of them being well and favorably known to the public, as experienced and able instructors.

The location of the University is in the highest degree beautiful—no epidemic sickness having ever occurred there or in Oxford.

The government of the University is mild but efficient. Every effort is made to cultivate a manly tone of feeling among the students and an elevated standard of morality; it is, moreover, surrounded by a population whose practical regard for religion and morality is well known and is not surpassed anywhere.

It is also easily accessible, being on the line of the Mississippi Central Railroad, which is now fully completed.

PIANOS, GUITARS and MELODEONS,

FOR

Parlors, Lodges, or Churches.

MR. W. NASH, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., and lately of Natchez, will be here on Monday the 25th, and will visit Oxford every Spring and Fall for the purpose of tuning, regulating and receiving orders for instruments. He sells no Pianos except those he can warrant to give entire satisfaction for ten years. Any Pianos sold by him will be kept in good order one year free from charge. The Tilton Guitar, at $20, is superior in tone to any other make at $40.—Mr. N. is one of the oldest and most reliable tuners in the country, and refers to Rev. Dr. Edgar, of Nashville, Dr. Grundy and Judge Charles Scott, of Memphis, Dr. Stratton, of Natchez. Any orders left at Mr. Roberts' Book Store will meet with prompt attention.
